First Tube | Remote

- As the 8th employee of a hypergrowth agency startup specializing in brand-owned experiences using proprietary live media buying strategies to drive ROI, I developed robust cross-departmental internal tools, systems, and processes that allowed us scale and improve efficiency
- Created, implemented, and managed a company-wide coding system to enable our finance team to code all project expenses, track budgets, and actualize/analyze/reconcile spending through improved P&L reports
- Built multi-faceted pricing models/databases and program budgeting/forecasting tools for projects ranging from $6k-$5MM+
- Created an invoicing system using a custom script and extension in the backend of the form for semi-automated intake, approval, processing, and archiving of vendor and contractor invoices
- Helped develop proof of concept, refine and prototype a complex media analytics tool to make automated API calls to dozens of different platforms and data sources using the Supermetrics extension. These are automatically updated by custom triggers thus expediting a previously laborious and time consuming process for near-real time reporting. The MVP is now in early stages of development, with the goal of it being a full campaign management product
